Revised Workshop Date

April 2, 2007

Dear Sir or Madam:

California Air Resources Board (ARB) staff is rescheduling the Harbor Craft Workshop from April 12, 2007, to 2 p.m. on April 24, 2007. We apologize for any inconvenience this change may cause you and invite you to participate on this revised date and time. As part of the Diesel Risk Reduction Plan and Goods Movement Plan efforts, ARB staff is developing a regulation to limit diesel particulate matter and oxide of nitrogen emissions from commercial harbor craft. Commercial harbor craft include tug boats, tow boats, ferries, work boats, crew boats, military vessels, and fishing vessels.

At this meeting, ARB staff will:

- Discuss the latest draft regulatory proposal for reducing emissions from new and in-use diesel-fueled engines on commercial harbor craft;
- Provide an update on the harbor craft emission inventory work;
- Discuss our economic impact analysis efforts;
- Provide preliminary assessment on environmental benefits.

The Commercial Harbor Craft Workshop will be held at the following revised time and location.

Date: April 24, 2007
Time: 2:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. (Pacific Time)
Location: Conference Room 230
Address: Cal/EPA Headquarters
1001 I Street
Sacramento, California 95814

If you wish to participate by phone, you can call in by dialing 1-888-552-9483, passcode 46577. The call leader name is Todd Sterling. Please note the change in the call in number and passcode.

The energy challenge facing California is real. Every Californian needs to take immediate action to reduce energy consumption. For a list of simple ways you can reduce demand and cut your energy costs, see our website: <http://www.arb.ca.gov>.
