

10 Overview of Findings & Conclusions

This chapter will list the major findings of the technical chapters and will integrate related findings. These findings will then be discussed in context of the Weekend Effect Hypotheses. Conclusions regarding the Weekend Effect will be drawn and implications toward CARB's ozone control strategy will be discussed. Gaps in data or knowledge for determining the cause(s) of the Weekend Effect will be identified and will provide the basis for the recommendations for further research that will be presented in Chapter 11.